“GLENDALÉ INSIDER” TV SHOW HIGHLIGHTS LUKE F-35, A TOUR OF THE TANGER CONSTRUCTION SITE AND A LIFESAVING AWARD FOR LOCAL HERO

GLENDALÉ, Ariz. – Glendale 11 announces the September edition of the “Glendale Insider” featuring in-depth two to five minute stories highlighting the latest happenings inside the city of Glendale. This month’s show introduces viewers to a local man who received a lifesaving award from Glendale Firefighters and a new theatre group in historic downtown Glendale. Other stories include an interview with Mayor Elaine Scruggs about the impact of Luke Air Force Base being named the future home of the F-35 Fighter along with a tour from the city’s planning director at the construction site for Tanger Outlets Westgate. Library patrons can get an inside peek at what’s new at the libraries and viewers will also get a front row seat at the 2nd annual West Valley Convention and Visitors Bureau event featuring tourism leaders from throughout Arizona.

Viewers can watch the entire “Glendale Insider” at various times throughout the day on Glendale 11 or each individual story can be seen online at www.glendaleaz.com/video. For more information about Glendale 11 or the new TV show, visit www.glendaleaz.com/glendale11.
